Television Termed Aid To Education

Fran Shinn, of Vacation Valley, who has been engaged in television activities for many years, traced the many details connected with the business in his talk on "Television Today" at the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club meeting at the Penn Stroud Hotel yesterday afternoon.

Television, he said is an aid to education and intelligence, not simply an entertainment medium. He gave the many details that go into production, the great cost and the growth from 1940. While practically "dead" at that time, it has grown so that, instead of the dozens and hundreds who followed it in the early days, it now attracts millions.

The speaker, presented by President Parke W. Kunkle, said that notwithstanding the expansion, the producers were only now getting back some of the vast sums they expended.

He told of the large number of people required to produce a program. A half-hour program in a New York studio costs $40,000, he said. Seventeen distinct elements are included in a TV production.

Shinn expressed the hope that government would not get control. That would be dangerous, he declared. As to programs, the public gets what it wants, he pointed out. He also discussed the loss, from the children's standpoint.

J. H. Stoner and Elwood C. German were inducted as new members by Frank N. LeBar, past lieutenant governor, assisted by Ted Hoffman, visiting Rotarian, and Dick Shuster, president of the Stroudsburg High School Key Club, sponsored by Kiwanis.

The quarterly birthday party for 22 club members was observed. The beautifully decorated birthday cake was sent to the Monroe County General Hospital for the patients.

Rev. Dr. P. N. Wohlson, chairman of the Support of Church committee, announced next Sunday would be World Wide Communion Sunday and he urged all members to attend their respective churches.

Announcement was made the Stroudsburg Club was tied with Emmaus for first place for August in the 12 Division.

President Kunkle spoke briefly of the Penna. District convention held in Philadelphia this week. M. W. Van Billard, of Bethlehem, was elected as lieutenant governor of the division, which includes Stroudsburg for his second term.

Dr. Thomas T. Lower, of Ashbury Park, N. J., was a visiting Kiwanian.

Mrs. Edinger Reports Seeing 'Ball Of Fire'

Reports of Monday night's "ball of fire" episode which was witnessed by many persons around the Stroudsburgs, continue to unfold even though an awaited recurrence never materialized.

Latest to report seeing the object is Mrs. John D. Edinger who lives on Route 209 three miles west of Stroudsburg.

According to Mrs. Edinger she spotted the "ball of fire" about 6:30 p.m. as she walked across the yard with her young son. "It was like the small fire balls that come from skyrockets," Mrs. Edinger reported. She said it was bluish-white in color and asserts she heard it "sizzle" just as a fuse would sound while burning.

The object wasn't flying high, Mrs. Edinger claims, and didn't travel far into the north before the lights seemed to burn out.

Bishop Describes Red Moves To Destroy Church In China

Mount Pocono — The future of Christianity behind the "bamboo curtain" hinges on the faith of clergymen still in China, a Chinese bishop told the final day's conference of the Christian Education Department, Woman's Auxiliary of the Bethlehem Diocese, Episcopal Church here yesterday.

Bishop Andrew Y. Y. Tsu, Bishop of Yunnan, a diocese in Southwest China, highlighted the closing portion of the parley at which 251 women registered in Trinity Church.

The Chinese clergyman related his experiences during World War Two as chaplain for 31,000 American soldiers stationed in China. He also described the fall of churches after arrival of the Reds.

Bishop Tsu said missionaries behind the curtain are considered agents of western imperialism and all efforts to destroy the church are being made.

Tru-Matic Machine And Tool Co. Pays Off $5,000 Installment To Local Bond Holders

A further reduction in the $75,000 bond issue which brought Tru-Matic Machine and Tool Co. to Monroe County four years ago, was consummated in Stroudsburg Security Trust Co. offices yesterday morning. Presentation of the $5,000 annual declaration by Arthur Schiebel, Tru-Matic president, was witnessed by officials of Monroe County Industries, Inc., which made possible the bond issue.

Car, Truck Collide At Intersection

A two-car collision in Stroudsburg resulted in $500 damages yesterday, but no one was injured.

Borough police said the accident occurred at 12:45 p.m. at the corner of Sixth and Sarah Sts. A pickup truck operated by William P. Serfass, Pine Ave., Stroudsburg, and sedan operated by Karl K. Semple, Drums, Pa., were involved in the crash.

Police said Semple stopped on Sarah St. for a stop sign, then pulled into the intersection, traveling east. Serfass was driving north on Sixth St. and the cars collided. Damage to the Serfass truck was placed at about $200. Semple's car was damaged an estimated $300.

Kiwanis Club, Schools Map Safety Drive

The Kiwanis Club boys and girls work committee will sponsor a highway safety advisory program this year, in cooperation with Monroe County school officials.

Known as the "Green Pennant Program," the safety drive is intended to cut down the toll of traffic accidents involving school children.

Kiwanian Max Stadfeld, a member of the committee, will speak at all-school assemblies at East Stroudsburg High and Junior High Schools this afternoon. Stadfeld will address Stroudsburg students on Monday, Oct. 5.

Cooperating with the club are Ralph O. Burrows, East Stroudsburg High School principal and Alfred W. Munson, Stroudsburg High School principal.

Allen Keiper, chairman of the Kiwanis work committee, said last night that the program is designed to encourage safety in schools. Each school will strive to achieve a no-accident record in order that it may be eligible to fly the "Green Pennant" of safety.

The pennant is awarded when the school has gone for 30 consecutive days without a traffic accident.

For an additional 30 days without accident, each pupil receives a "pin-on button" signifying that his school has been so honored.

If the school completes the entire school year without a traffic mishap, it will receive a gold star which may be sewn on the pennant and a framed certificate or other suitable award for display in the school building.

In the event any single child is involved in an accident, however, the school will lose all its awards and will be forced to start over "from scratch," Keiper said.

Lloyd's Bebop Slurs Vishinsky

United Nations, N. Y., (AP)—Britain's Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd slipped from his usually meticulous English yesterday to indulge in a little bebop language in commenting on Andrei Y. Vishinsky's tirade against U. N. proposals for a Korean peace conference.

"If I may use the idiom of bebop, dig that broken record," Lloyd remarked, adding: "And I would be very interested to learn how the translators handle that remark."

Retail Sales Rise

New York, (AP)—Retail sales in October probably will total $15,400,000,000 for a gain of 4 per cent over the like month last year, Sales Management magazine forecast yesterday.

Pyle Warns Of Forest Fire Threat

Woods Dry; Temperature Soars To 87

Yesterday's balmy (87 degrees) weather brought a reminder from district forester E. C. Pyle that forest fire danger is as great now as it was during the recent prolonged hot spell.

"It's just as dry now as it was then," Pyle remarked. "And now there are fallen leaves to burn."

Ordinarily, Pyle said, the county would not be in the annual "fire season" for a few more weeks. But this summer's long drought has advanced the dangerous season.

County residents enjoyed the day generally, though Weatherman Pierre Lake of Stroudsburg said he didn't believe it was a record-breaker.

"Just a nice, warm day," he commented. Low was 48 degrees, rising to 54 degrees at 8 a.m. and hitting the high of 87 in the afternoon, he said.

Jurors Drawn For Cross-Suit

A jury drawn yesterday for a cross-suit involving a Route 611 collision near the Beaver House July 28, 1951.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. Foster were in one car and Alfonso Salerno and several other passengers were in another. The two cars collided in the center lane of the highway, police said. Two in each car were injured, according to Pfo. James Riley, investigator.

The Fosters are represented by F. J. Mervine, L. A. Achterman and Ray Balikowski. Salerno is counselled by G. T. Robinson, and O'Malley, Harris, Warren and Hill.

County Tax Delinquents Given Stay

Monroe County property owners who have neglected paying their 1950 and 1951 county taxes were granted a stay of embarrassment yesterday.

P. A. Rockefeller, county treasurer, said he's advanced the date for payments to Oct. 15. Once that date arrives persons who still owe county real estate tax can expect to see their names published in the newspaper, Rockefeller said.

Returns from delinquents have been very good, the county treasurer said. He estimated that five pages of write-offs were recorded so far this month.

Originally the deadline was Sept. 15, but it was pushed ahead because of the heavy influx of hunters seeking licenses in the treasurer's office, necessitating a new deadline date.

Notices were mailed early in September to all persons in arrears. Each was informed to appear at the Courthouse to make adjustments before the public notices go to the newspaper.

Date for the public auction has been set for Friday, Nov. 20. First list of delinquents will appear Oct. 23.

Children To Be Guests At Animal Farm

Some 40 youngsters who were on the job for an SPCA tag day last May will receive their reward Saturday.

They will be taken to the Wild Animal Farm on Foxtown Hill for an outing.

The youngsters will be the guests of Dr. Claude Leister, operator of the farm. Ice cream will be provided by Ed Giffels Sr., while food for the youngsters to give the animals will be provided by Paul Lloyd.

Chaperones of the group will be Wealthy Kortz, Mrs. Frank Kerr and Mr. and Mrs. George Wakefield, custodians of the SPCA shelter.

Children who took part in East Stroudsburg's part of the tag day are to assemble at the railroad station at 10 a.m. to board a bus. The vehicle will pick up Stroudsburg participants in front of the YMCA at 10:15 a.m. Then the group will travel directly to the animal farm.

Use of the bus is being donated by Lester Drake, head of Delaware Valley Transportation Co., Stroudsburg.

$50,000 Deed Transfer Recorded Here; Involves J. J. Newberry Co.'s New Store

One of the biggest deeds ever processed at the recorder's office was filed yesterday—a $650,000 transaction involving the new J. J. Newberry store in Stroudsburg.

The deed showed transfer of the two tracts on Main St., where the new store was constructed, to National Life Insurance Co., of 131 State St., Montpelier, Vt.

The transfer was signed by J. E. Nelson, president of the Newberry Co., with offices at 245 Fifth Ave., New York City.

Attached to the deed was a whopping $6,500 in State real estate transfer stamps—the most ever to go on one deed here since the tax went into effect. Also attached was $715 worth of Federal real estate tax stamps, putting the total value of tax stamps at $7,215.

Alex L. Bensinger, local attorney in the transaction, said the stamps, both State and Federal, had to be ordered in advance. The office of Treasurer P. A. Rockefeller does not carry stamps in such large denominations as $1,000.

Bensinger said the transaction is a customary method of financing for the type of store and operation involved.

Speaking for the company, he said Newberry will lease the store from the insurance firm on a long term lease, with an option to purchase the store back.

The property description says the two tracts involved adjoin the following pieces of land: Main St., N. Sixth St., Caroline F. B. Holmes, Keller Alley, E. P. Arbogast et. al., John J. Newberry, David H. Keller.

Other deeds recorded showed transfer of a residence at 960 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, by Mr. and Mrs. John P. Mannix, Stroud Township. Grantee was H. M. Abeloff, East Stroudsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Mannix purchased from Abeloff two Delaware Water Gap tracts with residence on the Delaware Water Gap-Poplar Valley road.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Morris, Hamilton Township, sold their dwelling there to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Ruskin, Pocono Township.

Manslaughter Charge Filed Against Driver In Fatality

Wind Gap—A charge of involuntary manslaughter was preferred against Anthony Sabatino, Stroudsburg RD2, here yesterday morning.

Chief of Police W. L. Templeton said Sabatino posted $2,500 bail pending a further hearing into Sunday's auto accident which cost the life of Sabatino's 37-year-old wife, Mrs. Katherine Sabatino.

Sabatino was arraigned before Justice of the Peace R. S. Daniels where he posted bail for a hearing scheduled for 2 p.m. Oct. 9. Daniels said Sabatino's counsel is Edmund Turzot, of Bangor.

Mrs. Sabatino died at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in Easton Hospital where she was taken after the early morning accident Sunday. She suffered skull fracture and fractures of facial bones when thrown from the car driven by her husband which crashed into a tree in this borough.

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at the Hough funeral home, Bangor. Solemn high mass of requiem will follow at 10 a.m. in Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, Roseto. Interment will be in the new Catholic Cemetery, Roseto.

Churches Unite For Services

Seese Says Boy Not Run Over By Car

Travis Seese, East Stroudsburg, testified yesterday that no part of his auto ran over Darek Eckley, injured fatally in an accident in Brodheadsville May 29, 1952.

Seese testified in his own behalf as defendant in the trespass action filed by young Eckley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Eckley, Kresgeville.

Both sides wound up their case yesterday, but the charge to the jury by President Judge Clarence E. Bodie, Wayne County, was postponed until this morning.

Under questioning of his counsel, George T. Robinson, Seese testified he got his car stopped before it ran over the child who had fallen from the rear of his parents' moving car.

Summing up for the plaintiffs, Forrest W. Mervine asked the jury if the accident would have occurred if the Seese car had been under proper control.

Plaintiffs are asking medical and funeral expenses totaling between $1,100 and $1,200; and the worth of any earnings the 3-year-old child might have made before he was 21 years old.

Such earnings of a child by law belong to the parents, Mervine indicated.

The Unsung Hero

How many of us have heard the praises of the General Services Administrator sung if, in truth, we even knew there was such an individual or what name he bears?

Very few, we would imagine. So it gives us pleasure to beat the drum today for one Edmund F. Mansure, who occupies the position created by recommendation of the Hoover Commission, and who is backed valiantly by Director of the Budget Joseph M. Dodge.

We sound the tocsin for Mr. Mansure because of the way he is going about saving us money. Not just a few of us, but all of us, since his staff spend all their working hours scanning the expenditure of every penny and have just come up with a move to effect a sharp cutback on twenty kinds of things government agencies may buy in the future.

How much money will the plan save us? It has to be an estimate, of course, but Mr. Mansure believes he can save $2,700,000 annually on office furniture alone. He has stopped paying 38 cents for a box of paper clips obtainable for 3 cents, and is standardizing the purchase of a great number of items for which the government is in the market constantly.

Memograph paper, of which our bureaucrats use a fantastic amount, will cost us taxpayers $1 million less under the new specifications, and the $3 million annual item for janitorial and administrative supplies will be cut 10 per cent.

These are just a few of the subjects discussed by the estimable Mr. Mansure, whose name should be ever enshrined in our hearts and stamped on the inside of our pocketbooks.

Apparently a new day is dawning for the Poor Old Taxpayer.

The Birthday Party

Two weeks from Tuesday there will be such a birthday party in Pennsylvania as this old Commonwealth has never seen, when fellow Republicans of state and nation rally 'round at Hershey to honor President Eisenhower.

Actually, as you doubtless know, the Eisenhower birthday is on October 14 but this minor detail is no detriment to the thousands who are working and planning for a magnificent affair.

Music and games and, most wonderful of all, no oratory will be the highlights of this extraordinary gathering of Pennsylvanians and their friends from nearby states, and although the President and his lady have been honored in regal fashion on earlier birthdays it is a safe bet that never have they been the guests at anything like the October party.

As official releases have indicated there will be many surprises at the party, and all of them will be a kind enjoyed by Pennsylvanians for generations. Despite some snide remarks about the horse-and-buggy nature of the celebration, it will be definitely just that kind of a party with friendly, homely, human elements given the priority treatment.

With only two weeks to go until the big affair there is much that remains to be done, but one thing is sure: Pennsylvania will observe the natal date of Dwight David Eisenhower as we are sure it has never been observed before and in a friendly-neighbor way he will never forget.

The Once Over

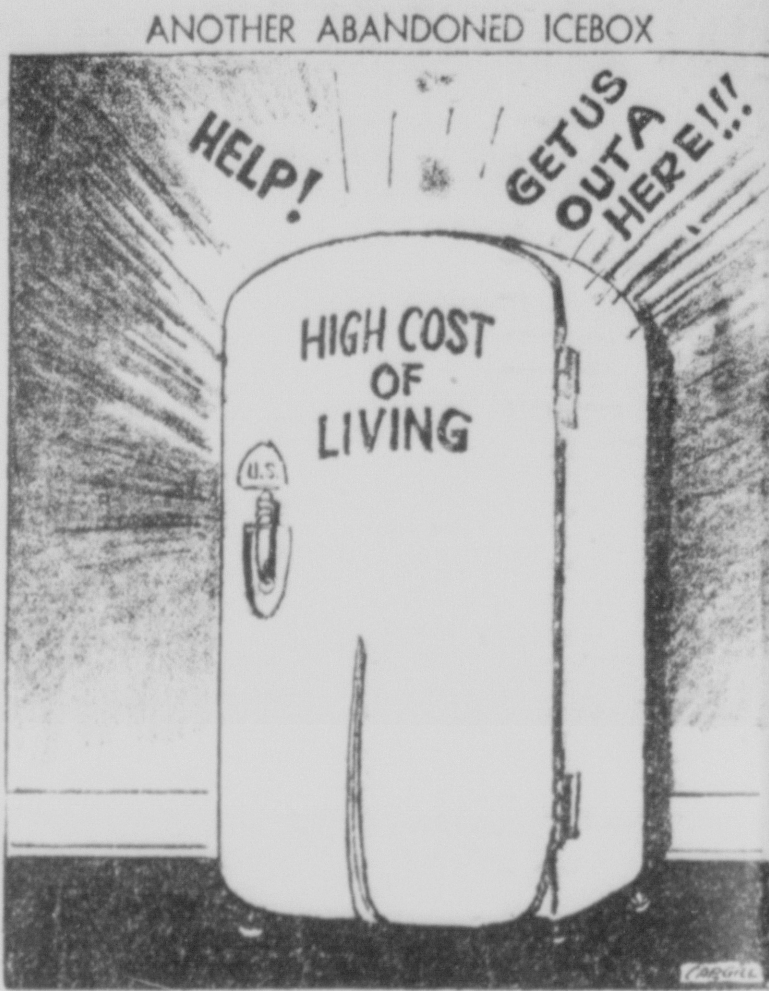

—by H. I. Phillips

Series Times

The question in this world series, as we see it is this: Will it be better under Eisenhower than it was under Truman and Roosevelt? The Democrats did pretty well with it, but the policy was distinctly pro-Yankee Stadium. A victory for "Dem Bum" would support the Republicans' claims that things have been too one-sided under the Democratic Administrations and that the slogan "It's time for a change" is not just a figure of speech. We await the full effect of the series on the stock market, the U. S. economy, the economic situation, NATO, Trieste, Egypt, Moab, the East German situation and Grunewald. "The Dutchman" We think will cut them all down to size, weather permitting. Until it is all over Malenkov and Vishinsky will be definitely benched for Campanella and Yogi Berra; Chou En-lai and Beria will be eclipsed by Hodges and Johnny Mize, and nothing that is done in Korea, Indo-China, Yugoslavia or Yonkers can command interest over what is done by Duke Snyder. Batter up!

Secretary Benson has ordered a probe of profits to the broker, packer and wholesaler to see why, despite lower prices for cattle, meat prices are still high. If he wants a real statistical operation he will look into what happens in the area between the restaurant and the customer. We ran into a place the other day where the sirloin steak dinner cost $8, with a $6 charge for one not so thick. . . . Run by a former violinist. . . . We told him we came for a steak not a Stradivarius. . . . How about a probe to determine what is put in most hamburgers these days and whether the size is controlled by a Secret Society Dedicated to the Spread of Starvation.

All the world's a TV show and all the people merely panelists. . . . A former official of a fire department is recorded as getting a $20,000 fee at Yonkers and being on the payroll now at $1,000 a month. . . . The track needs a fire department background, perhaps, because so many characters there are "hot". On the other hand maybe he was expected to have the net ready in case anybody had to jump. . . . Robert S. Allen Reports

$2 Billion Will Be Spent For Anti-Aircraft Defense

Washington President Eisenhower and his top policy chiefs have reached one major decision regarding the fearful disclosure that Russia possesses the H-bomb.

To meet this cataclysmic menace $2,000,000,000 will be earmarked in next military budget for the specific purpose of building up the anti-aircraft defenses of the nation.

This giant protective program, will, necessarily, include Alaska, Canada, Greenland and Iceland.

The far-reaching decision was made at the first meeting of the National Security Council presided over by President Eisenhower since returning from Denver.

Admiral Arthur Radford, head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Allan Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, who are not regular members of the Council, participated in this crucial session.

The plan to spend $2,000,000,000 in the coming fiscal year to strengthen the anti-air raid defenses of the country will not mean an increase in the military budget.

The President is still aiming at holding down these expenditures to $30,000,000,000 in fiscal 1955. The current Pentagon budget is $34,372,000,000. The new economy goal is to slash that stupendous figure by four to six billion dollars. That is the unannounced directive under which the Joint Chiefs of Staff are working.

The funds for new defenses against Red atomic attack will be included in the proposed "for services in settling the strike." . . . That's a new high for seeing a man about a horse. . . . An American serving on an American agency in U. N. and fired, for refusing to say whether he is a member of the Communist Party or has served as a Communist agent, has been awarded $40,000 by U. N. as an "indemnity." . . . Others fired for clamoring up on their loyalties have been awarded sums from $12,000 to $28,000. . . . If you're a 100 per cent loyal American, willing to swear that you never lifted a finger to help destroy your country, it's a lot tougher.

What goes on in the minds of some of those folks turning on TV thrillers? . . . The other night, immediately following a hair-raising interlude in which a plane full of passengers was crashing to earth, the screen went: presto! —into this commercial: "Now we pause while the Campbell kids visit their old Kentucky home!" Teamaker, which won a race over a field of 11 horses at Belmont, must be close to the oldest race horse now running. . . . The chart gave his age as ten, but he must be somewhere between that age and fifteen. . . . Was originally a jumper and has run over 115 races, often beating far younger horses. . . . A gallant thoroughbred if we ever heard of one. . . . Fred Allen found that an old Ford contract kept him from appearing on an air program sponsored by a rival auto company. . . . Every little while something like this happens to keep Fred from a good, big smile.

Things that make us wince: Those "Reggie" sketches on the Jackie Gleason programs. . . . How dismal can ya get? . . . Remember away back when you could go to a movie house and see a picture that was no bigger than necessary. . . . The reports from the 490 cops assigned to duty at the Marciano-La Starza fight are in. . . . They report no disturbance, and how true! . . . Use of "The Star Spangled Banner" at prize-fights has always jarred us, and we really groaned when the national anthem was sung by a crooner at the last one. . . . (I ain't an entertainment number, bub.) . . . New Fulton Market theme song: "Buy Me That Porgie in the Window." . . . Now that "Teahouse of the August Moon" is to follow "Tea and Sympathy" does this reflect a Lip-ton-Godfrey influence in the theater?

More Action — The Security Council made still another far-reaching decision at this session. That was to enlarge the Central Intelligence Agency and to intensify certain of its activities. The additional money that will be required for this was not fixed. CIO Director Allan Dulles will report on that later, after a study of the matter. But he was authorized to plan to step up the operations of his agency.

No decision was reached on possible changes in the weapons program of the Atomic Energy Commission.

However, the Council will decide what should be done on that by November 1.

Reason for the delay is that the Atomic Energy Commission is still working on its recommendations. Pending them, the Council deferred action on the key problem.

Reactors are indispensable for both the production of atomic weapons and atomic power.

The Commission sought $130,000,000 for this program in the current budget. But the item was rejected by Budget Director Joseph Dodge. Finally, after urgent pleas from the Commission, Congress voted $80,000,000 for this purpose.

Strauss told the President that a large-scale reactor program is "absolutely essential, particularly in view of the fact that the Russians now have the H-bomb."

Strauss mentioned no specific figure, but indicated the Commission will strongly recommend reactor plans that will cost upwards of $100,000,000.

Speech regarding atomic affairs will not be made until later this month. It was originally scheduled for October 5, but was delayed because of the hitch in the Atomic Commission's recommendations and differences among lower House advisers over how far the President should go in publicly discussing atomic weapons and U. S. and Russian strength in those arms.

Another Blast — Senator Harry Byrd is squaring off for some more blunt talking about government spending and balancing the budget.

The powerful Virginian is preparing a statement which will warn the Eisenhower Administration that an $8,000,000 deficit is inescapable unless federal expenditures are slashed to the bone in fiscal 1955.

Byrd decided to fire this salvo after a talk with staff members of the Senate Finance Committee, of which he is a senior member, various charts and statistics laid before Byrd stirred him so strongly that he determined to speak out while the Administration is in the process of compiling the next budget, which President Eisenhower will submit to Congress early in January.

George Sokolsky Says...

Country Provides Refuge In Beauty That Divine Intelligence Paints

We temporary farmers who, with the first breeze of spring, rush from the city to push a seed into the soil, depart from our farms in the autumn when the leaves turn red and golden.

The mixed life of city dweller and farmer, of woodman and taxider, of eating the fruits of one's labors or the French concoctions of the Colony Restaurant — it is a life of contrasts. Today I write in peace and solitude, except for the call of a catbird, the cooing of pigeons and the rustling of the wind through the leaves; tomorrow I shall hear the incessant clang of steel on steel, the dull grind of a parade of automobiles, a million radios blaring their varied echoes through a million open windows, the conversations that rise from nowhere but are heard all over as the sound of the city.

One sometimes wonders why any of us return to the vast expanse, yet, I have seen prospective city dwellers on the countryside. The intention is always to produce a great work, to sit upon a rock and gaze upon the heavens whence comes inspiration. And only too often one gazes until ideas flee like the hummingbird. The mind relaxes and the work that was intended remains an intention.

Reactors are indispensable for both the production of atomic weapons and atomic power.

On Broadway

—by Walter Winchell

Broadway Heartbeat
Celebs About Town: Greta Garbo who hasn't made a picture for a decade, turning necks along 5th Ave. . . . Sir Cedric If a red-wick's hearty hawking at Joe E. Lewis's non-sense in the Copa. . . . Constance Moore breaking her fast in Cafe Madison at 3 p. m. . . . The Gen. Omar Bradley's enjoying Hildegarde at the Cotillion. . . . The Bogarts swapping World Series gabs at Toots Shor's. . . . Frank Sinatra's hosting from a pestiferous drunk outside Lindy's. . . . Joan Davis on her new $9,200 caddy. . . . Lurine Rainer on E. 56th with an amused old booties en route to the shoe-pedaling. . . . Montgomery Clift, pedaling along Madison, on a borrowed grocer's bike. . . . Lena Horne in the Band-box, sequestered in her linen and new, hair-doodle. . . . London's Janet Green, author of "Gently Does It," a murder play (due at the Playhouse the 29th), gawking at the E-way electric. . . . Champ Rocky (Mountain) Marcello on the Stock's Table 30 throne.

Sallies In Our Alley: At the Monique last night a techie comic, who invaded a table, was offering ad his that fell flat. . . . "I'm leaving," he said, walking away. . . . "Not any more!" squelched Bill Tabbert. . . . The current gag in Queenscliff Village. . . . About the couple who called off their wedding plans because neither looked good in a dress.

Dum-Dadum-Dummm! Television and Radio people, worried about mounting criticism, are planning to combat the charge that "Dragnet" and the networks are "chummy" to blame for juvenile delinquency, crime, etc. . . . An article is being considered for one of the national magazines. . . . It will argue that children have always played cops-and-robbers—Cowboys-and-Indians and so forth. Games in which one side abused the other. . . . We offer this to the author. It happened in midtown last week. . . . A 5-year-old tot, after being thrilled by so wholesome a story as "Peter Pan," was caught just in time as she gleefully cried: "I'm going to fly like a fairy!" and was almost out the window.

Memoirs of a Midnighter: Bobo Rockefeller, mending from illness, has a new barrier in her law suit. . . . Her former attorney N. Powell. . . . Starlet Sharon Dexter married a coaster in Vegas and two days later filed for annulment. . . . Don Richards, the lead of "Finian's Rainbow," killed in a crash, was not intoxicated, according to the girl in the car. She says he was not used to the power-steering wheel. Turned it too hard on a sharp curve and hit a pole. . . . "Miss U. S. of '52" (Jaqueline Loughery) seeks $500 weekly from husband Guy Mitchell in the separation action. . . . Lisa Loughlin, one of Gleason's teevy beauts, has been a secret bride for 8 months. . . . Norman Vance of the Ballet Theatre married Gordon Pollock, co-producer of "Time Out for Ginger." . . . Rumor says Jeanne "S. Pacific" inherited Janet Blair's "S. Pacific" role, will wed the stage mag. . . . The new ditty, "Istanbul," is practically "Patin' On The Ritz."

Broadway Break: Glenn Miller (one of the dance-band greats) died during World War Two. . . . RCA-Victor decided to find "someone like Miller." . . . At a conference of execs one suggested: "Why not get the chap who did Miller's great arranging?" . . . Another offered: "I think he had an Irish name like Flanagan." . . . "That's the fellow!" a third staffer exclaimed in Tune Pan Alley) was signed to prepare orchestrations on Glenn Miller's style. . . . Flanagan was so good—the firm promoted him and a hand into quick fame, fortune, etc. . . . But Flanagan was not the one they had in mind, at all. . . . The "Irish name" was Finegan—who was brushed off in the mixup. . . . Today, however, the Sauter-Finegan crew (now at the Bandbox) is rated higher than Flanagan's.

Encourages: Kathy Barr thrashing "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" . . . T. Dorsey's version of "Most Beautiful Girl in the World" . . . Harry Snow's song at the Blue Angel. . . . Jan Taylor's enlightening article on Pat Ward in the new mag, "Top Secret" . . . Sir Oliver's song in "Beggars Opera" . . . "Happy in the Hay" . . . 3 Sons at the Astor. . . . Dean Allen on the Palace Bill.

The Broadway Line: Nat Benchley's play, "Frogs of Spring," is about two families who dwell in adjacent Manhattan houses. One family in Benchley's—the other John Steinbeck's. They no longer speak. . . . Artie Shaw shaved his head because he was told it would cure incipient baldness. When he opens at the Embers his entire crew will be baldies. . . . Confidential mag will feature a piece about society girls and Negro be-bop musicians. Naming names. . . . "Mogambo" is a remake of "Red Dust" filmed in '36. Gable played the lady-killer in that, too. . . . This is the first time Flanagan have been such a short price in a World Series.

Those five-times-Yankees winner rambunctious pennants can hardly be compared to Snow White though there does seem to be a resemblance between the rest of their league and the Seven Dwarfs.

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

It would be a very good idea to pass a law making striped pants, catseye coats and ascot ties illegal.

I may write to the Secretary General of the United Nations, Dag Hammarskjöld, and suggest to him that this nation be taken up at the next meeting of the General Assembly.

Why can't nations take an example from the lives of their people? Why must they cling to the old-fashioned ideas of formality, tradition, precedent?

I was very much amused at the reports of the President's recent meeting with Crown Prince Akihito of Japan.

This 19-year-old kid seems to be a pretty nice sort of person. He does not impress one as particularly dumb nor as particularly brainy.

But what can the President and the Prince have chatted about for nineteen minutes, as the papers reported. The Weather? Wine? Women? Song?

Little Akihito is about as formal as they make them. All dressed for the occasion, he presented the President with a magnificent embroidered silk screen.

Mr. Eisenhower thanked him and said, "As soon as my wife sees it, I'm going to love this."

That is what I mean by informality. And what I think that is one of the characteristics that elected Eisenhower last November.

Fancy clothes are often only a disguise for trickery and hypocrisy.

Vishinsky in a cutaway coat and striped pants is still Vishinsky. A sheep in wolf's clothes is still a sheep. A wolf in sheep's clothes is still a wolf.

This matter of formality applies to people in general just as much as to statesmen, diplomats and politicians.

Always remember that a high hat is hollow inside. Under that high hat can be a completely empty brain. Clothes are something like the skin of a sausage. If what's inside the skin is putrid, then the finest skin in the world cannot make that sausage digestible.

Your Red Feather Agencies:

8,413 Patients Treated
At Hospital During Year

(The second in a series on Red Feather agencies of YOUR Community Chest.)

By Leonard Randolph

Monroe County General Hospital served 8,413 persons during the past fiscal year.

The figure is roughly equivalent to 25 percent (one-fourth) of the total county population.

This does not mean, of course, that one-fourth of all Monroe residents actually received treatment—either as in-patients or as dispensary patients—at the hospital.

Some of the patient-days were expended on persons from outside the county—accident victims or vacationers who became ill in this region.

The vast majority of the patients, however, came from Monroe and upper Northampton counties—regions directly in or closely associated with the Poconos.

During the fiscal year, 4,607 patients were admitted and treated at the hospital. From this total an extra 771 newborn were added to the county's population.

In the hospital dispensary—one of the agency's most active and most used departments—3,806 persons were treated during the fiscal year.

These 3,806 patients received a total of 12,824 treatments. Some of the dispensary patients find it necessary to return for more than one treatment.

Tied in closely with nearly every phase of hospital work is the institution's laboratory where tests of all kinds are made throughout the year, in connection with every conceivable illness, to determine the hidden presence of disease, the need for hyper-cautionary measures and the best possible care for the individual patient.

Between June 1, 1952 and May 31, 1953, General Hospital's laboratory took and processed 33,860 "routine examinations." Another 1,146 specialized "tissue examinations" were conducted for the diagnosis of possible carcinoma or other diseases.

In terms of emergency use, the hospital's X-ray department gets a heavier workload than most of its other departments.

Last year, for example, 7,249 patients were given X-ray tests. Many of them received X-ray to determine bone fractures or other injuries suffered in accidents.

Included in this number, also, are those cancer patients who receive vital "deep" X-ray treatments in an effort to remove or lessen the dangerous growth within their bodies.

Operations also account for a large portion of General's service to the community in which it exists. Last year the services of hospital surgeons were concentrated on 2,417 operations—of both major and minor nature.

Anesthesia was required for 1,835 of these operations.

Each patient treated by the hospital remains there an average of five to seven days.

Last year the hospital devoted 30,364 days to treatment of its patients. New-born babies received 4,624 days of treatment.

As usual, Monroe County General was operating at a loss. The hospital—bedeviled by the high cost of drugs, instruments and other elements of institutional care—cannot make its financial services bend to meet its fragile financial income.

Plans for the baked ham supper to be served Oct. 5 by the Ladies Aid of the St. Paul's Reformed Church were completed at a special meeting of the society Thursday night. There will be another meeting of the society before the supper.

Present at the special meeting were: Mrs. Grace Kresge, Mrs. Elsie Rowe, Mrs. Margaret Neison, Rev. and Mrs. William Foote, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Heckman, Mrs. Frances Sims, Mrs. Virginia Leles, Miss Beatrice Bush, Mrs. Beulah Coffman, Mrs. Lawrence Davis, Mrs. Cora Warner, Mrs. Sadie Heller, Mrs. Sara Hahn, Mrs. Bertha Rinker and Mrs. Elsie Mader.

In recent letters received from Pfc. Richard Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Snyder, Woodland Road, he told them that he is now stationed in Charwon, Korea. At first he reported a shortage of foods, but more recently says things are improving. There has been much rain and now the weather is turning quite cold, he says. His address: Pfc. Richard E. Snyder, RA13408660, Battery C, 424th Field Artillery Battalion, APO 264, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

The new lake on the Coleman Leher property between Woodland and Grange Roads is gradually filling; excavations were done by Lee Keller.

The Youth Fellowship of the Swiftwater M. E. Church entertained the Arlington Heights Fellowship group at a hot dog roast Tuesday night, at the school hall.

Lancaster Cattle

Lancaster, 1471 cattle 775, supply moderate, demand less active, prices 50 cents lower. Cows 217, receipts moderate, good to choice selling from 27.00 to 28.00. Steers up to 29.00. Hogs 294, receipts moderate, market steady to weak. Sheep 117, receipts light, market steady.

A major cause of the annual deficit may be found in a summary study of the number of charity patients treated each year.

During the past fiscal year, a total 609 in-patients were treated without cost to the patient. The hospital devoted 4,863 days of care to those patients.

This means, basically, that more than 13 percent of all patients admitted and treated by the hospital were "free cases." Of the total 30,364 patient-days expended on all patients, 4,863 went to the care of charity patients—more than 16 percent of the total.

As a result the hospital ended its 1952-53 fiscal year with a $13,524.66 loss despite the all-important contributions made by the State, county commissioners (from tax funds collected from county residents, of course) and the Monroe County Community Chest.

The hospital is one of our most valuable Community Chest, Red Feather agencies.

It deserves fully—and desperately needs—the full cooperation of all county residents.

The Community Chest campaign is now under way.

Give generously to help keep the red feather of service flying over all Monroe County Community Chest agencies.

Pocono Union Church Marks Homecoming

Henryville — Homecoming, with afternoon and evening services, was held Sunday in Pocono Union Church. Rev. A. M. Herman, guest speaker from Bangor, chose as his afternoon message the theme, "Loyalty to Christ," and for the evening, "Not Far From the Kingdom."

Mrs. Arthur Post was in charge of music.

The pastor, Rev. C. F. Spangenberg, officiated at the services, reading the Scriptures and introducing the speaker, Walter Sebring, of Tannersville, was the guest soloist for the afternoon, his accompanist being Mrs. Robert Frailey. The local choir sang two numbers. Mrs. Lillian Wood played "Traumerei" as a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Post. Hildegard Baumann played Schubert's "Serenade" as a piano solo.

Awards were presented by Mrs. Paul Barry, Sunday School superintendent, to the following: Mrs. Carrie Detrick, for being the oldest person present, excluding church members; Mrs. Sallie Henry, who is the oldest church member; Jimmy Post as the youngest child present, and Mrs. A. M. Herman coming from the most distant place.

Featured in the evening was the Pocono Male Chorus, with Mrs. Dewey Jacoby as accompanist and Thomas Barry as director. The chorus sang seven numbers.

The choir presented two selections and Mrs. Henry Baumann played a violin solo for the offertory, and later played "Follow, I Will Follow Thee," accompanied by her little daughter Hildegard.

Pocono Union extended thanks to Mrs. William Stewart for stencil work and to Mrs. Lillian Peechaka for mimeograph work on the bulletins.

Junior High School Pupils To Conduct Chest Campaign

Students of East Stroudsburg Junior High School take their lessons in citizenship seriously these days.

Beginning next week they'll practice what their teachers preach about the responsibilities of community living.

The annual Community Chest solicitation in the school begins on Monday, is expected to be cleaned up not later than Friday of the same week.

According to Principal Theodore Miller, the student participation in the Chest drive has been very successful up to now. Last year's campaign showed high interest on the part of the student body, Miller said.

The school's Chest drive is carried out on a voluntary basis by homerooms where collections are made. Both students and teachers are included in the drive.

The school attempts to include nearly all charitable funds in its one major drive. In addition to the Chest, the Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society and the March of Dimes benefit from the annual collection.

SPCA Notes Lag In Drive For Members

SPCA reported itself woefully short of members, at its first business meeting of the fiscal year Tuesday night in Stroudsburg.

Response has been good in terms of donations, reported Mrs. Willis Goddard, financial secretary. But there are only 118 paid members at present. At the close of the last fiscal year there were about 300 paid members, she added.

Mrs. Ellen Albenzi said members are hoping for greater response in the current membership drive.

Anyone may become an SPCA member by paying dues of $1 or more a year. Applications may be mailed in to Post Office Box 4, East Stroudsburg, Mrs. Albenzi said.

Mrs. Edward Knob, Stroudsburg, was named chairman of the shelter committee.

An auditor's report was made by Harry Bolich, Stroudsburg accountant, and member of the SPCA.

Rev. and Mrs. Luther Markin had as a guest last week Mrs. Audrey Martin, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howard have returned from a motor trip through the New England States. Mr. Howard was associated with Harry LaBar for 10 years in the Christmas tree business, and stopped in Pittsfield, Mass., where the business was conducted. They also visited Burlington, Vt. fair.

Mrs. Richard Manhart has returned to her home in Catskill, N. Y., after a six weeks' visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Buzzard. Mr. and Mrs. Buzzard also had as a guest for three weeks their niece, Miss Vivienne Marcelli, of South Cairo, N. Y. With their guests, the Buzzards made an automobile trip to Farmingdale, N. J., to visit Mrs. Buzzard's sister, Mrs. Harry Mills. Mr. and Mrs. Buzzard, Miss Camille Buzzard and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lightner also went to Scranton one night last week to see a wrestling show.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shellenberger had as guests for a day last week, Mr. and Mrs. Merton Warner and their son, Robert Warner, of Berwyn, Pa. Mrs. Warner and Mrs. Shellenberger are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Faulkenhagen, of Oaklyn, N. J., spent Sunday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lightner. With them were their son and daughter, four-year-old Edward and two-month-old Mary Ann.

Miss Mildred Deacon spoke to a well-filled Sunday School room of children and adults Sunday morning when she gave a flannelgraph talk on Nehemiah at the Rally Day exercises.

Mrs. Nelson Lightner Sr. is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Lightner Jr., Stroudsburg.

Rev. Luther Markin and elder John Bedford represented the Gap church at Presbytery which was held at White Haven, Pa. Rev. Frank Wingerter, of East Stroudsburg, was moderator.

Dianne Lightner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lightner, celebrated her 11th birthday Friday at a noon-time spaghetti dinner at her parents' home at which she had as guests Linda LaBar, Linda Dutt, Kathy Meixell, Patsy Merkle, Darlene Ott, Elsa Drake, Carol Bluzosky, Lucille Williams, Ingrid Weekwert, Faith, Larry and Todd Lightner, Mrs. Mabel Lightner, Mrs. Mildred Buzzard, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lightner. The traditional birthday cake concluded the meal.

Because Bobby Clarkson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clarkson, attends school in East Stroudsburg, his birthday party Friday was tucked in between afternoon session and supper time. To share the fun, the cake and ice cream with him, were Freddy and Jimmy Jennings, Billy Buzzard, David Clarkson, Miss Ola Frisbie, his grandmother, Mrs. Marguerite Clarkson, and his parents.

Mrs. Ora Lambert, of Stroudsburg RD., returned to her home Sunday after a few days in the General Hospital. Her friends are delighted with her speedy convalescence. Mrs. Russell Shellenberger and Mrs. Peter Rockefeller are also making a good recovery from recent illnesses. Mrs. Laura Osborne has been up and around and in her own home for two weeks.

Earl Stroman spoke for the Gideons at the worship service of the Presbyterian Church Sunday. Mr. Stroman is a layman, a member of the Moravian Church in Nazareth and received a fine response to his brief message. At this service, Rev. Markin, pastor, preached on "The Old Fool," who was Saul first king of Israel. The Misses Vera Storm and Annette Kulp received the offering. Senior and junior choirs, directed by James Anthony, each sang an anthem. During the adult service, Miss Lillian Stark had 18 juniors at Junior Church in the basement of the church. She gave them a pictured account of a dramatic episode in the life of Joseph.

Remove Cattle From Pasture Before First Killing Frost

By A. Norman Dietrick
SUS Technician

Good pasture management entails more than the mere application of lime and fertilizer. Cattle should be removed in the fall early enough to permit the pasture plants to attain a reasonable growth of 3 or 4 inches before the first killing frost.

This growth gives the plants a chance to recover and store food to carry them over the winter.

Root growth is directly related to top growth, and the vigor of the plant likewise depends upon the root development. The more vigorous the plant is as it goes into the winter, the less likely it is to be winter-killed.

This kind of management is extremely important in maintaining Ladino clover, one of the most important and highest yielding of all pasture legumes.

It is of equal importance where aftermath grazing is practiced on alfalfa hay fields. Overgrazing is probably the one greatest single cause of failure of these legumes from winter-killing.

In addition to this loss, the soil is left exposed and subject to erosion during the months of highest rainfall. Freezing and thawing loosens the soil making it very susceptible to washing. Lime and fertilizer which has been added as top-dressing is also carried away.

Glenn Harps, near Snyder'sville, maintains sufficient pasture for his herd so that the plants will not be eaten "into the ground" by the end of the grazing season.

While he also practices aftermath grazing on his hay fields, he is careful to remove the cattle before the plants are eaten too short. This serves to give his pastures a rest as well.

Hamilton Board To Sell Seven One-Room Schools But Retain One As Memorial To William Lesh, Historian

Although the one-room schoolhouse is fast fading from the education picture at least one Hamilton Township school will be kept in a state of repair as a memorial to one of Monroe County's outstanding historians.

The history-chronicler is William Lesh, lifelong resident of this area, whose lectures and articles on the county—with special emphasis on Hamilton—have made him a familiar figure in this territory.

A decision to keep the Bell School "alive" was reached this month by the township school board.

At this same meeting, the board decided to hold a public auction for the purpose of disposing of its remaining seven one-room schools.

The auction is to be held on Saturday, Oct. 24, at 1:30 p.m., at the township's new elementary school building on Route 12, near Scotola. Advertisements of the sale have been placed in the daily newspaper.

Buildings will be opened for inspection on Saturday, Oct. 17 at 1 p.m. and the morning of Oct. 24.

In making its decision to retain the Bell School, Hamilton board pointed specifically to a project which, they hope, may pave the way to a permanent memorial museum housing area documents.

According to members of the board, Mr. Lesh has expressed his personal interest in such a project, saying that he "will be interested in directing the restoration of this one-room school for the service of future generations of children and all citizens of Monroe County."

As the board sees it, the small building could be used as a traditional home for valid information pertaining to the past history of Hamilton and Monroe County.

The school board does not intend to allocate school district funds for the purpose of restoring the "museum." It has no legal right to do so.

For funds to restore the building—and information to store in it—the township must depend upon its own citizens and the remainder of Monroe County.

Whether the board's desire to continue a one-room school museum becomes a reality will depend largely upon the interest of persons in this area.

All Hamilton Township one-room schools were closed down for the first time this year when its new consolidated school building opened.

Hamilton board members are Thomas P. Rogers, Alfred Kresge, Mrs. Corona Keiser, John Van Buskirk and Elwood Haney.

THE TRUTH comes home.. to the Family

132 OCT 33 1953 Mut Page 1

As an American, you are free to think, choose and act for yourself. But, unless you also had the right to know the truth, these precious freedoms would immediately become meaningless and soon disappear. The right to know is fundamental to democracy. It is guaranteed to you by the First Article of the Bill of Rights, which established a free press. It is predicated upon the faith of the founders in the wisdom of the people . . . provided they have the facts. To bring the truth right into your family circle is the purpose of your newspaper. It tells you what is going on across the world . . . and across the street! Without fear or favor, it gives you authentic facts which you must have if you are to think, choose and act in the best interests of your family, your community, your country. Freedom of the press is primarily the freedom of all the people to know all the facts. It is the basic freedom upon which all other freedoms depend . . . without which, none could long endure.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

In its advertising as well as its news columns, your newspaper helps you to exercise your American freedom of choice wisely and well. Every advertisement it prints is a bid for your favor . . . presents the facts you need in order to decide what to buy and from whom . . . all with a view to making every dollar you spend contribute the greatest measure of satisfaction to your family and yourself.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Transue (Daily Record Photo)

Geraldine E. Werkheiser, Albert C. Transue Are Wed

Miss Geraldine E. Werkheiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Werkheiser, of Stroudsburg, became the bride of Albert C. Transue, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Transue, of Henryville, Tuesday, Sept. 29, at 7:30 p.m.

The early Fall wedding was performed by Rev. Dr. E. T. Horn at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Tannersville, before a large number of relatives and friends.

The church was attractively decorated with Fall flowers. Harriet Learn, church organist, furnished suitable nuptial music. Soloist was Walter H. Sebring who sang "O Promise Me" and "Because," previous to the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" while the bride and bridegroom knelt in prayer.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of nylon tulle and Chantilly lace over satin with mandarin collar, sleeves tapering to a point over the hands. Her fingertip veil of tulle and Chantilly lace was held in place by a tiara of seeded pearls and rhinestones. She carried a white orchid with satin streamers.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Marion A. Rowe, of Stroudsburg, sister of the bride. She was attired in a blue gown of nylon net over satin with lace bolero and matching headpiece and shoes. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and white pompons.

Robert Fellenner, of Henryville, was his brother-in-law's best man. The ushers were Donald Werkheiser, brother of the bride, and Russell Rowe, friend of the bridegroom, both of Stroudsburg.

The mother of the bride wore a cadet blue taffeta dress with navy blue velvet accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a gray suit with black accessories. They both wore corsages of white roses.

A reception featured by a buffet supper was held at the Tannersville fire hall for 100 guests. Decorations consisted of wedding bells and streamers. The bride's table was decked out in Fall flowers and centered with a tiered wedding cake.

The newlyweds left later on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls. For traveling, the bride wore a navy blue suit with red velvet accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Pocono Township High School and is employed at the A&P store in Stroudsburg. The bridegroom, a graduate of Barrett High School, is serving in the U.S. Army, stationed at Camp Atterbury, Indiana.

The bride will reside with her parents until her husband is discharged from the Army.

Miss Besecker Will Be Fall Bride Saturday

Miss Beverly Ann Besecker, daughter of William C. Besecker, of 516 Main St., Stroudsburg, and Mrs. Raymond Pinsky, of Washington, N. J., will become the bride of Clyde Thomas Ellenberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Ellenberger, of 259 Smith St., East Stroudsburg, at 7 p.m. Saturday in Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg. Rev. William F. Wunder, Grace church pastor, will officiate at the double-ring ceremony.

William Super, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, will serve as best man. Mrs. Bertha Super, sister of the bridegroom, will be matron of honor. The many friends of the young couple are cordially invited to witness their marriage on Saturday evening at seven o'clock in Grace Lutheran Church.

Plan Party

Tannersville—The Senior class of the Pocono Township High School plans a Halloween party for Oct. 30. Donations of cake and candy are being solicited. There will be a special children's hour included in the affair with prizes.

Stork Shower Is Held For Mrs. Beehler

Bartonsville—A stork shower was given recently, Tuesday night, September 15, at 8 p.m., in the Parish Hall of the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church by Miss Mary Alleger, in honor of Mrs. Robert Beehler.

Decorations were quite natural—pink and blue, with gladioli on the table from which refreshments were served. It was a miscellaneous shower.

Attending were: Mrs. Richard Metzgar, Mrs. Robert Field, Mrs. Russell Bond and Beverly, Mrs. Donald Hartman, Mrs. Sally Harps, Mrs. Joseph Starner, Mrs. Archie Ace, Mrs. Clyde Beehler, Mrs. P. D. Hyland and children Joy Ann and Philip.

Mrs. Joseph Dunbar, Mrs. Harold Sprangle and Joan, Mrs. Daisy Alleger, Mrs. Vernon Wallace, Miss Emma Dunbar in addition to the guest of honor, Mrs. Beehler and her husband, and hostess, Mary Alleger.

Unable to attend were Mrs. Beatrice Swink, Mrs. Floyd Cyphers, Mrs. Claude Cyphers and Mrs. Elmer Marsh.

Effort Group To Aid Korean Child

Effort—The WSCS met at the home of Mrs. Francis Beers on Tuesday night when Mrs. John Rinker led the discussion of the topic, "Scatter the Good Seed." Others taking part were Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. Paul Sweet and Mrs. Etta Rinker.

At the business meeting it was decided to donate three dollars a month toward the support of a Korean child.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ray Felker.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Talk about suspended motion, we had a good example of it yesterday. At 12:55 the streets were buzzing with activities—cars hurrying back and forth between home and the plant, children loitering in the sunshine before the bell rang, people coming and going about their every day pursuits.

Then, bang, as sharply as if someone had stopped a motion picture reel in mid-step, the whole thing stopped. But dead, and stayed that way until 4:15 when suddenly everything started up again—Cars, children, shoppers.

It would be a pretty mysterious performance to a man from Mars. I imagine, who had never heard of the World Series.

Indoors the sharpest contrast came when the game was over, and radio and television sets were snapped off. The silence fairly rang in your ears after all the racket.

It's all pretty foolish—but isn't it fun?

Paradise PTA Has Achieved Perfect Roll

Swiftwater—A letter to parents written by David L. Miller in a September, 1952, copy of The Daily Record opened a very appropriate opening for the first meeting of the season of the Paradise Parent-Teachers Association, Monday night, with Mrs. David Nelson, president, in charge.

Committee chairmen were named for the year as follows: Membership, Carl Hamblin; publicity, Mrs. Elmer Mader; hot lunches, Mrs. John Hamblin; hot lunch treasurer, Mrs. Thornton Counterman; program, Mrs. Harry Neiring; devotions, Miss Audrey Hamblin; music, Mrs. Ted Besecker; refreshments and hospitality, Mrs. Roger Storm; legislative, Anthony Bolyn; PTA magazine, Mrs. Everett Neiring or Mrs. Dean.

Social events will be planned by committees made up of people living near one another. The first group so named included: Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Counterman, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Coffman, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Storm, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Storm and Mr. and Mrs. John Fritz.

After the reports were given, the group voted to adopt the insurance plan for the school children, with Miss Audrey Hamblin in charge.

Hot lunches will start on October 13, with Mrs. Harry Heller and Mrs. David Nauman as cooks. It is desired that all children bring their money for the week's lunches the first day of each week.

Paradise PTA was the first in Monroe County to achieve 100% membership. This year members voted to raise the dues from 25 to 50 cents for each member.

Following the business meeting, parents visited the home-rooms of their children and talked with the teachers, and saw samples of the children's work.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by Mrs. Carl Lilius, Mrs. Robert Ross and Mrs. Russell Shick.

Induction Of Officers For POA Camp

Mount Pocono—Installation of officers of the PO of A. Camp 235, this place, was held on Wednesday night, Sept. 23, at the Tannersville POS of A. Hall, with Mrs. Ethel Rinker, district president, of Saylorburg, and her staff as the installing officers.

The elective and appointive officers installed included: President, Mrs. Eva Schaeffer; assistant president, Mrs. Marie Nelson; vice president, Mrs. Lillian Delavan; assistant vice president, Mrs. Carrie Bishop; conductress, Mrs. Louise Stiff; guard, Mrs. Mary Chalmers; sentinel, Miss Shirley Keiper; assistant recording secretary, Miss Loretta Horne; chaplain, Mrs. Jane Rickly; orator, Mrs. Charlotte Stout; pianist, Mrs. Lillian Delavan; trustee, Mrs. Ethel Miller; color bearers, Miss Esther Smith and Mrs. Blanche Smith.

Following the installation the newly elected president presided at a business session of the camp and appointed committees to serve for the new year. These included: Sick, Mrs. Carrie Bishop; publicity, Mrs. Emma Keiper; and auditing, Mrs. Lillian Delavan, Mrs. Alberta Heller and Mrs. Charlotte Stout.

Plans for the group's annual banquet were formulated and Mrs. Lillian Delavan was appointed chairman of the banquet committee.

Guests were present from Saylorburg, Stroudsburg, Mountaintown and Tannersville for the installation. Brief remarks were given by the district president, Mrs. Rinker, and several of the guests, many of whom were past officers.

The retiring president of Camp 235, Mildred Horne, and her assistant, Mrs. Katie Sieg, were commended for the past year's work.

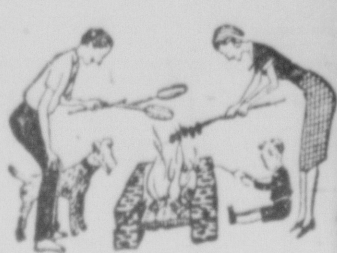

The hostess committee, Mrs. Carrie Bishop, Mrs. Geraldine Babcock, Mrs. Rose Davis and Mrs. Lillian Delavan, served refreshments at the conclusion of the meeting to the 52 members and guests attending.

Hamilton Church Luther League Has Sunrise Meet

The Hamilton Parish Luther League held a bowling party recently. Members enjoyed the new activity.

Sunday, Sept. 27, the league held a sunrise meeting at 7:30 a.m. at Hawks Hill in Bartonsville. This was a regular business meeting. A breakfast was served to everyone.

The next regular business meeting will be held on Oct. 4 at 7:30 p.m. at Mt. Eaton. Chaplain for the month of October is Bertha Snyder. This will be a vacation meeting where members will tell what they did on their vacations. James Smith will give the topic for the evening, "Patterns for Life." Kay Bush will have charge of the games.

F. G. Mooney New Master Poc. Grange

Tannersville—Francis C. Mooney was elected master of Grange 1415 at the meeting Friday night, Sept. 25. Plans were also made for the bazaar in October among other activities.

The other officers elected in addition to Mr. Mooney were: Overseer, Myles Dailey; lecturer, John Montgomery; treasurer, Mrs. F. C. Mooney; secretary, Mrs. Elsie Dailey; steward, Emma Keiper; assistant steward, Charles VanSciver; gatekeeper, T. Benj. Henry; Ceres, May Singer; Pomona, Sallie Hery; Flora, Cassie Gilpin; lady asst. steward, Irene Hartman; chaplain, A. J. Christman, Mrs. T. Benj. Henry was elected to the executive committee, and also to the finance committee.

Plans were discussed for a rummage sale to be held Saturday, October 10, starting at 2 p.m. It will be held outside the fire house if weather permits, otherwise in the basement of the building.

It was suggested that Fall housecleaning would probably bring out articles for the sale. Those interested may contact Mrs. Myles Bailey or Mrs. Benjamin Howell.

There will be all kinds of food available at the sale, including barbecues, hamburgers, hot dogs, cake, coffee, etc.

Pike County Rep. Women Hear Reports

Milford—On Monday night, September 21, at the Gifford Pinchot Grange Hall in Milford, the Pike County Council of Republican Women held its first meeting after a summer recess.

A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Adelaide Budd, chairman, Mrs. Ann Mazza and Mrs. Dorothy Berger was elected. Mrs. Mazza, chairman of Political Activities for the council, gave a resume of the Northeastern Regional Conference of Republican Women which was held on September 10, at the Tom Quick Inn in Milford.

Plans for a birthday party, to be held on the eve of President Eisenhower's birthday in Hershey, were described. Eight hundred cakes from different counties in Pennsylvania will be supplied for a drawing. Mrs. Levi Cole is "cake recruiting" chairman for Pike County. Details of this projected party will appear elsewhere in this paper.

Mrs. James Bryce, Mrs. Anna Brittle, Mrs. Dorothy Berger, and Mrs. Ruth Cole formed the refreshment committee for the occasion.

The next meeting will be on Monday night, October 19.

MR. AND MRS. Edward J. Stright are shown above with Rev. Harold C. Eaton who re-read the wedding vows they had first taken 50 years ago, and Mrs. W. B. Parkins, who was the maid of honor at their wedding. The picture was taken at the open house held in celebration of their golden wedding.

50th Wedding Anniversary Of Edward Strights

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Stright, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary recently with an open house at the home of their son, Ralph Stright, of Craig's Meadows, were greeted by a capacity crowd of friends, and received cards of congratulations from a hundred more.

The party had been planned for the patio, but the rainy afternoon made it necessary to move indoors. The throng of people was so great that even the basement of the house was pressed into service.

When the Strights again exchanged the wedding vows they had first taken fifty years ago, Mrs. Beulah Stright McConnell sang from the basement "When Your Hair Has Turned to Silver" and "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Mrs. Walter Brown played the accompaniment on a portable organ. Mrs. W. B. Parkins, who was the maid of honor at the original ceremony, again took her place beside the bride.

They received many gifts, and hundreds of cards. The Strights plan to leave this week for their winter trailer home in Florida.

Grace Bible Class Plan To Buy Curtains

Crusaders To Raise Funds For Furnace

Bartonsville—The Crusader Class of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church launched a new project at their meeting Friday, Sept. 18, at 8 p.m. in the Parish Hall. They are determined to raise money, and speedily, for a much-needed new furnace for the church.

Last year's painting and outdoor bulletin board projects are satisfactorily completed and the first fund-raising event of this season is to be a Box Social Saturday, Nov. 28.

Tentative date for a combined October-November business meeting to complete plans for this revival of an old fashioned custom is Friday night, Nov. 13, in the Parish House.

Already they have decided to sell ice cream and hot and cold drinks and to require lunches to be packed in ordinary newspaper and food string in order to preserve their anonymity during the auction.

A Halloween Party, Friday night, October 30, will supplant the next regular meeting. Committees for that event, to which the whole community is invited are: prizes, Mrs. Haviland Heller and Miss Emma Dunbar; decorations, Mrs. Joseph Dunbar and Mrs. Robert Field; refreshments, Haviland Heller, teacher.

Hostesses Mrs. Russell Bond and Mrs. Alma Detrick served refreshments to: Mr. Russell Bond and Beverly, Mr. and Mrs. Haviland Heller, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cyphers, Mrs. Frailey, Mrs. Beatrice Swink and Ronnie, Mrs. Joseph Dunbar, Miss Emma Dunbar, Mrs. Robert Field.

Hostesses for the October-November business meeting will be Mrs. Verdon Frailey and Mrs. Claude Cyphers.

Employment Of Disabled People Urged

The Pocono Mountains Committee on Employment of the Handicapped yesterday called upon employers to consider the skills and experience of handicapped workers for any jobs open during "NEPH Week" beginning next Sunday.

Elmer D. Christine, chairman of the committee, said that employment of physically disabled people "is good business" for the employer and the community.

The worker with a physical limitation, when properly selected and placed, is as good a worker and often better than unimpaired employees, Mr. Christine said.

He asserted their disabilities do not count when they are placed in jobs for which they are fitted. Mr. Christine said handicapped workers are careful, interested in their jobs and less inclined to "job hopping" and absenteeism.

Mr. Christine said that he had been informed by Carl P. Deitz, acting manager of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service that 19 handicapped workers with varied skills and experience are ready for employment.

The East Stroudsburg office of the PSES, affiliated with the United States Employment Service, offers to employers the experience and techniques acquired over the past 20 years in matching the actual requirements of the job with the skills and capacities of the worker, Mr. Christine said.

"We should use the employment service and the other cooperating community agencies in demonstrating the widely accepted principle that it is good business to hire the handicapped," Mr. Christine said.

Are comic books harmful to children?

To the contrary, declares a physician writing in the Journal of Pediatrics.

Comics are potentially a valuable educational medium, according to the doctor.

In addition to entertainment, comics can provide children with accident prevention lessons and discussion of public affairs, recent inventions, social history, and the counteracting of racial misunderstanding and prejudice.

The United States Army, says the writer, has used the medium of comics to present information in vivid and concise form.

Comics are read by children of both sexes and by adults with varying occupational, economic and educational backgrounds.

It is stated that at least six comic books are read by over 40 per cent of males and 25 per cent of females over 17 years of age.

More than 20 million copies of comic books are now sold every month in the United States.

It is doubtful, says the article, whether comics create deep emotional disturbances for children since violence committed by adults against adults seldom frightens children.

The child identifies himself with the hero, and adverse effects on the child's use of language are probably slight, it is explained, because the hero's words are usually above reproach.

While preoccupation with comics may detract from interest in more worthwhile literature, library circulation and book sales suggest an increase in juvenile reading generally in recent years.

With maturity, most children lose interest in comics.

The adults who reads comics seeks only entertainment.

Upsets and tie games plagued this football forecast as no little last week, as last Saturday's record turned out to be 46 correct guesses and 15 of the wrong variety, bringing the season total to 82 right and 22 wrong for a .788 average. The only place we had a truly good weekend was on the local front, where all four of the area grid machines came through with comfortable victories. Although Bangor won by only one touchdown, Catawissa accounted for both of its scores against the Bangor second and third stringers.

The local scene will be much tougher to predict this weekend, especially with East Stroudsburg and Bangor risking their undefeated records at Memorial Stadium. The Cavaliers will be up against their toughest foe of the season without a doubt, as Bangor will feature a rugged line that can move and a set of backs second to none in the Lehigh-Northampton League. The Steelers are reportedly over the mire of illness and injury and will be shooting for victory number three. East Stroudsburg, the team that was taken lightly at the beginning of the campaign, will be searching for its fourth straight nod.

On paper Bangor looks like the stronger club, but this scribe learned a lesson in the Stalington game. The determination and spirit of the Cavaliers can't be taken lightly and on the basis of these two items I'll pick the purple and white color bearers to win in a real close ball game that will probably remain in doubt right down to the final whistle. Stroudsburg rates the nod over Palmerton on Saturday, as the Mountaineers attempt to land their third straight Lehigh Valley League decision. Although the Mountaineers are this column's pick to win, they had better keep their guard up, as this game presents fine upset possibilities.

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and its new short punt formation tangles with King's College in Wilkes-Barre Saturday night. King's will field a strong team in its opening game, but this scribe will string along with the Warriors who looked so well against Millersville last Saturday. On the national front it looks like Northwestern over Army, Louisiana State over Boston College and Syracuse rates the nod over Boston University. Yale will topple Brown, Bucknell will trip Muhlenberg, Holy Cross will down Colgate and Princeton should edge Columbia, despite its narrow squeak last week against Lafayette.

Rice will edge Cornell, Navy will bounce back with a victory over Dartmouth, Fordham will shade Detroit and Harvard will down Ohio University. Lafayette will elude Albion, and Penn State rates a very tight nod over Penn, while Oklahoma trounces Pitt, VPI nips Rutgers and Bowling Green topples Temple. Villanova will break into the win column over Wake Forest, William and Mary will down Cincinnati and Illinois will shade Stanford.

Southern California shouldn't have any trouble with Indiana, Iowa will nip Washington State and Kansas will take the measure of Iowa State. Nebraska will down Kansas State, Wisconsin will trample Marquette, Michigan will down Tulane and Michigan State looks like a winner over Minnesota.

Pittsburgh is another timid choice over Colorado, Notre Dame will wallop Purdue, California will nip Ohio State, Oklahoma A. and M. will top Texas Tech and College of the Pacific will down Tulsa, while Wichita defeats Bradley, Vanderbilt will edge Alabama, Mississippi will edge Auburn and Chattanooga will defeat Jacksonville State.

Furman is too strong for The Citadel, Maryland will crush Clemson, Duke will edge Tennessee and Florida will clip Kentucky. George Washington will emerge the winner over North Carolina State, Georgia will top Texas A. and M., Alleys one and two—Presbyterian vs. St. John's Lutheran.

Alleys three and four—Stroudsburg Methodist vs. St. Mark's Lutheran. Alleys five and six—Richmond Methodist vs. Zion Reformed. Alleys seven and eight—E. S. Methodist No. 2 vs. E. S. Methodist No. 1.

Texas Christian will down Arkansas, Texas will slam Houston, Arizona will nip New Mexico A. and M., New Mexico will topple Brigham Young, Denver will decision Colorado A. and M., Utah will shade Hawaii and Wyoming will topple Utah State. Idaho is a third timid choice over Montana, while Montana State decisions Colorado Western State, ULCA beats Oregon, Washington downs Oregon State and San Jose State edges Fresno State. Well, there it is for another week.

Returning to the local scene as a closing note, it might be good to point out that if Stroudsburg should defeat Palmerton it will give the Mountaineers a 3-0 league mark, far better than any other club in the circuit at the present time. The same is true in East Stroudsburg, as the Cavaliers go in search of their third Lehigh-Northampton League victory without a setback. Tomorrow night's tussle will be the first circuit outing of the season for Bangor.

East Stroudsburg Junior High Invades Lehigh

Cavaliers Seek To Even Grid Record

East Stroudsburg Junior High School will attempt to even its 1953 football slate at one victory and the same number of defeats today when the charges of Coach Mike Evans tangles with Lehigh Junior High, on the latter's home field.

The contest is scheduled to get underway at 3:30 p.m.

East Stroudsburg opened its junior high season last Friday by suffering an 18-13 reversal at the hands of Whitehall Junior High, at Memorial Stadium.

Evans announced last night that he would stick with the same lineup that opposed Whitehall last week.

Lineups

This means that Bob Herman will be at left end; Al Smith, left tackle; Jim Kolum, left guard; Wesley Weckhiser, center; Bill Smith, right guard; John Smith, right tackle; Ronald Mursch, right end; Dick Miller, quarterback; Dave Heckman, left half; Carl Smith, right half, and Leroy LaBar, fullback.

Today's game was originally scheduled for tomorrow, but was moved up one day at Lehigh's request.

Lopat Battles Roe Today

New York, (AP)—Eddie Lopat of the Yankees and the Dodgers' Preacher Roe, two lefties who've been through the mill, will be facing each other today, a game earlier than last year.

The pair looked up in the third game of the 1952 classic, with Old Preacher winning it, 5-3. That one was Roe's second series triumph. He also had a victory in '49. He has yet to lose.

Record

Lopat, who holds a win over the Brooks in '49, is 3-1 lifetime in World Series competition. Both veterans finished the regular season in fine style, Lopat won 16 and dropped only four, the best record in the American League and Roe ended up with an 11-3 record.

Bratton Wins Split Verdict

Baltimore (AP) Johnny Bratton, ranking welterweight from Chicago, could punch out no better than a split decision for the second time last night against unrated Al "Sugar" Wilson of Englewood, N. J.

Bratton, who is gunning for a return shot at the welter title held by "Kid" Gavilan, weighed 150½ to Wilson's 148½.

Second Time

These same two fighters came up in a split decision last April and the opinion last night before a crowd of 1,866 and a national (CBS) television audience was just as divided.

Ford To Run Pitt Machine

Pittsburgh, (AP)—Coach Lowell "Red" Dawson of the University of Pittsburgh said yesterday Henry Ford is his choice for the starting quarterback job in Saturday's football game here with Oklahoma.

Big Drop

Dawson dropped Quarterback Bill Hoffman from first to fourth string after a scrimmage session in which he appeared off form.

Reynolds May Be Lost For Series

New York, (AP)—Allie Reynolds, star Yankee righthander, hurt his back in the third inning yesterday and may be through for the series.

The chief said after yesterday's game that he wrenched his back in the third inning "and this may finish me for the series."

Accident

He explained it was the "same thing" that had bothered him since the Yankee team was involved in a bus accident in Philadelphia in June. He was knocked out of his seat when the bus crashed into an overpass.

Manager "Casey" Stengel was downcast about the injury but hopeful that he might be able to get a little more help from his ace. "Maybe I'll stick him in there to strike out one man in a pinch," said Stengel.

Mangrum Likes Chances

Virginia Water, England, (AP)—Lloyd Mangrum, U. S. Ryder Cup golf team captain, yesterday replied to some British sports writers who have been claiming the U. S. team is the weakest since at least World War II.

"The British don't know Americans," he said during practice for the cup matches over the tough 6,700-yards Wentworth course Friday and Saturday.

Long Course

"We're here to win. I think we will. Wentworth is a long, rugged hitters' course. We like this place. I've played dozens of courses over here and this is my favorite. It's the best."

Mangrum would not say he thought this was America's best team but "I can't remember a stronger one," he said after checking players on previous teams.

Campy To Have X-Ray

New York (AP)—X-rays may be taken today to determine whether Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella broke a finger on his right hand in yesterday's first series game with the Yankees.

Injured

The hard-hitting Dodger was hit on the hand by an Allie Reynolds' pitch in the second inning. It pained him but Campy insisted on continuing in the game.

Afterwards, the little finger of the hand was swollen and discolored.

Carter Agrees To Defend Lightweight Title In Canada

Montreal, (AP)—Lightweight Champion Jimmy Carter will defend his crown against Montreal's Armand Savoie at the Montreal Forum, November 11, in a 15-rounder which will be telecast coast to coast in the United States.

It will be the first "live" telecast of a fight from Canada to the U. S. and it will be beamed over the CBS network starting at 10 p. m. It also will be Canada's first world title fight since Joe Gans won the lightweight championship by knocking out Frankie Enns in one round at Fort Erie, Ont., May 12, 1902.

The announcement of the championship match was made yesterday by the Canadian Arena Co., operators of the Forum, at a luncheon for sports writers and sportscasters.

Present

Present at the luncheon were both fighters and Montreal Mayor Camilhon Houde.

The mayor hailed Montreal as a "great" sports city and said the fight should "draw a record crowd."

Savoie, the fifth ranking lightweight contender, outpointed Carter, in a non-title 16-rounder in Montreal, February 16.

Carter scored knockout victories over Tommy Collins (four rounds) and George Araujo (13 rounds) in title defenses since he regained the 135-pound crown from Lauro Salas on October 15, 1952. In his most recent outing, he stopped Ben Miloud in eight rounds at Johnston, Pa., last Monday night.

LEAVE POWER LINE INSULATORS, ROAD SIGNS, ETC., OFF SCHEDULE.

Eastburg Plays Host To League

Bartonsville—The Lehigh-Northampton Scholastic Athletic League will hold its regular fall dinner meeting here at the Bartonsville Hotel today, at 6:30 p. m.

Each of the nine schools in the circuit will be represented at the affair.

East Stroudsburg High School will serve as host to the remainder of the circuit.

Schools expected to be represented in addition to East Stroudsburg are Bangor, Parkland, Wilson Borough, Nazareth, Penn Argy, Hellertown, Fountain Hill and Coplay.

Several prime topics of business are on the agenda.

President Sees Game On TV

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower watched part of the first World Series baseball game yesterday on television.

Report

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen the President saw snatches of the game in his office in between visits by official callers.

Eisenhower quipped at his news conference yesterday morning that there was no more important news than the World Series game.

Three Matches Listed

Three matches are on the agenda of the Monroe Classic Bowling League today at Harmon's Recreation, at 7 p. m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Jack's Market vs. Eagles.

Alleys three and four—Bill Altier's vs. Red Top Tavern.

Alleys five and six—Deerhead Inn vs. Square Bar.

Yankees Get Jump On Bums In Series

second base, hit his homer into the right field seats in the fifth, it was obvious that Reynolds would be lucky to go nine.

Time after time he went to three balls on the hitter. When he finally was yanked after Hodges' blast and Shuba's two-run pinch homer in the sixth, he had thrown 104 pitches. Most pitchers average about 120 or so for a full game.

The crowd barely had settled in the bright sunny weather when the Yanks began to tee off on Erskine, counted on for three starts in Dresden's strategy.

Erskine, a trim, sharp workman, was off on his control. It was evident from the start that he was having trouble with his curve ball when he walked Collins, the second hitter, on four pitches.

"Hank" Bauer slammed a long triple that rolled past "Duke" Snider in right center, scoring Collins, and Erskine was in deep trouble.

Berra went down swinging on a 3-2 pitch after hitting a long foul into the seats, but Erskine lost all control and passed Mickey Mantle and Gene Woodling on eight pitches. Martin's triple to left center, with left fielder Jackie Robinson and Snider both playing shallow, sent the Yanks out in front, 4-0.

Goat Stars

When Hodges, the hitless "goat" of last year's series with his 0 for 21 batting mark, drove a homer into the left field stands leading off the sixth, Reynolds was nearing the end. It actually was Hodges' first Series hit in 24 trips—the last time up in 1949, 21 times last year and twice earlier yesterday.

Carl Furillo, playing with a bandage and using a padded bat to cushion the left hand he injured in a recent fist fight with Leo Durocher, almost reached the stands with a sired poke to right field which Bauer caught.

When Cox singled to left center, Dresden lifted Hughes for pinch hitter Shuba, a left handed swinger. The Youngstown, O., outfielder hit the fourth pinch hit in the first row of the lower right field stands, just past the glove of Bauer, who later admitted he might have caught the ball if he had gone back to the wall in time.

Sain took over after Shuba's homer, escaping further damage although the Dodgers had men on first and third with two out before he finally retired the side.

Deadlock

Successive singles by Roy Campanella, Hodges and Furillo drove home Campy with the tying run in the seventh. But that was all. Twice Dresden tried to advance the runners with sacrifice bunts but both Cox and Clem Labine, the third pitcher, forced runners at third on Berra's alert play.

Collins' homer put the Yanks back on top. When Bauer and Berra followed with singles, Labine was replaced by Ben Wade who struck out Mantle to end the frame but who took it on the chin in the eighth.

Martin singled with one out, Phil Rizuto walked, Sain doubled home two and Collins singled to score Sain for the three "icing" runs.

Trophy Committee To Meet

Effort—A meeting of the trophy committee of the Pocono Mountains League will be held here at the Pohopoko Hotel today, at 8 p. m. The baseball gathering has been called to acquire and distribute trophies for the season just completed.

Members

Committee members are Henry Weiss, chairman; Lloyd Altomose, Elmer Valo, outfielder for the Philadelphia A's; Jim Riley, sports editor of The Daily Record, and league officials.

The officials include Clint Getz, president; Harry Janson, first vice president; Clarence Smith, second vice president; John Wernett, secretary, and M. N. Warner, treasurer.

Bauer Blames Self For Shuba's Pinch Hit Home Run In Sixth

By Ted Suits

New York, (AP)—Hank Bauer, New York Yankee rightfielder whose triple in the first inning of the World Series yesterday started things going for the Yankees against the Dodgers, blamed himself for letting George Shuba score a pinch hit homer in the sixth.

Baltimore Fans Welcome Mayor Home

Baltimore (AP)—Baltimore's delegation which went to New York after an American League baseball franchise and got it returned home yesterday to a roaring ovation.

An estimated 500 persons packed the lawn in the concourse of the Baltimore and Ohio's Mount Royal Station here to pay tribute to Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, Attorney Clarence W. Miles and others who put the city back in the majors.

Streets

Hundreds more lined downtown streets to cheer the grinning, wildly enthusiastic mayor and his cohorts on the drive to the mayor's home.

From train to doorstep, the bouncy D'Alesandro was hugged, kissed, patted on the back, given presents and cheered loudly.

He said of it all: "This is one of the greatest days in my life."

Talbert Named Cup Captain

New York, (AP)—William F. "Bill" Talbert, one of the finest doubles players ever developed in American tennis and one of the game's outstanding strategists, was chosen yesterday as non-playing captain of the United States Davis Cup team which will play in Australia in December.

Members

Talbert will lead a four-man team composed of Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, Victor Seixas of Philadelphia, Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., and Robert M. Perry of Los Angeles.

They will play the winner of the Belgium-India match at Brisbane, Australia, December 19-21 and then, successful, the Australian team at Melbourne.

Dallas Edges Nashville, 4-2

Dallas, (AP)—Dallas cut loose with a three run rally in the seventh inning last night to come from behind and beat Nashville, 4-2, to win the Dixie Series.

Games

The Texas League pennant winner beat the Southern Association playoff champion, four games to two.

State Officials Laud Press On Eve Of Newspaper Week

Harrisburg, Pa.—Gov. John S. Fine and other state government officials yesterday launched Pennsylvania's observance of "National Newspaper Week" which begins today and continues through Oct. 8.

"I am happy to salute the press of Pennsylvania, particularly on this occasion when it seems appropriate to awaken any appreciation by the people of the press and by the press of the service they give," Fine said in a statement.

Referring to the slogan for this year's observance—"An informed press means an informed people," the chief executive said, "this acknowledges the responsibility which has long rested with the press in providing news, fairly, fully and fearlessly."

The governor termed a free press, conscious of its way, a "powerful ally to good government."

"If the press fails in fairness and freedom, it can detract from good government," he said.

"It is a pleasure to recognize the active part the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association has taken in the planning of the national observance," he said.

The governor urged residents of the state to join in the observance and also in the observance of Newspaper Day which is "an integral part of Newspaper Week."

Gov. Lloyd H. Wood said "newspaper readers do not appreciate the daily newspaper as much as they should."

He said that nothing has given him more pleasure and added more to his knowledge of current affairs than reading newspapers.

Dr. S. K. Stevens, state historian, praised the press of Pennsylvania saying, "It is open to question whether any single state has a more distinguished place in the history of the press and of newspaper publishing than does Pennsylvania."

Dr. Stevens recalled that the third newspaper founded in America was published in Philadelphia in 1719 under the title of Andrew Bradford's Weekly Mercury.

David M. Walker, secretary of labor and industry, said the press is "a power which never can be torn asunder as long as America is a free nation."

The newspapers of the nation will be honored Saturday with special programs planned throughout the state and nation.

In 1932 Canadians used about seven pounds of coffee per person compared with about three and three quarters pounds just before World War Two.

Merchants To Discuss Activities

The Stroudsburg Business Men's Association will meet next Tuesday night at Chariton's Lodge, Bushkill road. It will be a dinner meeting, starting at 6:30, and President Ted Getz promises all members that it will last no longer than 9 p.m.

Completion of Christmas street lighting plans and community Christmas opening are on the agenda. Arrangements for the annual Halloween parade and celebration will be discussed. Last year, East Stroudsburg merchants were responsible for the Halloween celebration. This year the responsibility falls on the Stroudsburg merchants.

Invitations are going out to musical organizations to participate in the parade which, no doubt, will be held on Friday night, Oct. 30. As usual, there will be cash prizes for best costumes selected by judges.

Stroudsburg merchants are requested to call Secretary Arthur Widmer or Nathan Smith if they plan to attend Tuesday's meeting.

No Logic In Red Politics

—by Eugene Lyons

available for an enormously larger population than in 1916, the year before Lenin and Trotsky seized power.

The key fact in his report is that this year farm output will be only 10 per cent higher than in 1940. Since the population has increased nearly 20 per cent in the same period (mainly by grabs of territory), this actually means that Ivan Ivanovich will have less to eat than 13 years ago—when he had barely enough to keep alive.

But the most revealing section in Krushchov's essay deals with livestock, which means the sources of meat, milk, leather and a lot of other vital products. The nation's total, it appears, is about what it was in 1916, which is 37 years ago. But in the key item of cows there has been a decline of 15 per cent and for horses a decline of over 50 per cent compared to 1916. To appreciate the seriousness of this picture, we must note that 1916 itself was a pretty lean year—Russia had been at war for two years—and that meanwhile the population had grown by over a third.

This scarcely speaks well for communism in action. But Krushchov has a plan for licking the trouble. It tells even more about what ails Russia than his statistics.

While farming is almost entirely "collectivized," peasants do have the right to cultivate tiny individual plots, usually one-half to two-thirds of an acre, on an old-fashioned private basis. The irony of the Kremlin scheme is that it counts primarily on this minor private segment to remedy the situation. As the New York Times dispatch from Moscow put it:

"The Government is henceforth committed to support and encourage each individual peasant to make the most productive use of his personal farm plot and his personal livestock holdings."

In other words, the Soviets are counting upon the output of the minuscule private farms—the malignant and outlawed remnant of private enterprise—to retrieve the losses of socialized agriculture! In point of fact production by this individual segment has been vastly higher, acre for acre, than on the kolchozes (collective farms) or the great state-farms, run like factories by the Government directly. The reason, of course, is not far to seek. The peasant simply gives his best energies to his private plot.

Logically the Kremlin, on the basis of its own findings, should consign socialized farming to the ashcan. But logic has little place in the political religion of Communism. Besides, a prosperous peasantry on the basis of private ownership and cultivation of land, would be a fatal threat to the whole Soviet setup. So Moscow sticks to collectivization despite its harvests of hunger—and is imposing the same blessing on all its satellite nations.

Denz Outlines Jobless Pay Law Changes

The distinction between "covered" and "non-covered" employment in determining eligibility for unemployment insurance benefits is less important as the results of amendments to the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law recently adopted, according to Carl Denz, acting manager, East Stroudsburg office of the PSES.

Denz explained that for "covered" employment, employers are required to pay contributions to the state based on wages paid their employees, while "non-covered" employment does not require such payments. Denz listed farm labor, government employment, work for hospitals and non-profit groups and domestic work as examples of "non-covered" employment.

A recent amendment to the law provides that refusal of suitable work, voluntarily leaving work without good cause, and discharge or suspension for misconduct, shall be considered in determining the eligibility of a claimant for benefits. This is regardless of whether such work is "covered" or "non-covered" employment, Denz said.

Denz added that another amendment on this point will be to the advantage of workers generally. It provides that earnings from both "covered" and "non-covered" employment shall be considered in determining whether the claimant has earned enough to overcome a determination of ineligibility due to voluntary quit without good cause, or discharge for willful misconduct.

The law provides that a worker who is out of work because of voluntary leaving employment without good cause, or because he has been discharged for misconduct, must earn eight times his weekly benefit rate before he is eligible for unemployment payments.

Employees who are suspended after making a reasonable effort to return to work after a voluntary leave of absence, will not have to earn the eight-times rate to qualify for benefits, the manager added.

Denz advised workers and employers to take any questions they have to his East Stroudsburg office.

Lester Cohen To Tell Of Billy Mitchell

Lester Cohen, East Stroudsburg R.D. 3, will be the speaker at the second assembly program of the new year at State Teachers College auditorium this morning.

The program, to which the public is invited, will consist of Cohen's observations of pioneer aircraft engineer William (Billy) Mitchell.

Mitchell blazed new trails in American aviation foreseeing the possibility of a mammoth defense air network and the potential of large flying machines.

The airman was scorned by political figures and defense chiefs who called his ideas—many of which have since been adapted to modern needs—"impractical."

Mitchell was court-martialed by the Army for advocating radical aircraft innovations.

GOP Club Approves By-Laws

Portland—By-laws were accepted here this week when the Republican Club of Portland and Upper Mount Bethel met in the local fire company hall.

Luther Ackerman, president, presided and announced the following invitations to area meetings: Friday, Oct. 2 in Bath; Wednesday, Oct. 14, at the Blue Valley Farm Show building, Bangor.

Walter Nicholas was in charge of the opening program. A donation was voted to the county Republican campaign fund.

A card party was planned for Saturday, Jan. 9 at Mount Bethel fire company hall. Asa Shumaker was named chairman and Mrs. Harry Webb, Mrs. Harry Seaman and Mrs. Milla Hartley, assistants. Mrs. Seaman, Mrs. E. Randall Carpenter and Miss Lillian MacNamee were named to arrange a bake sale here on Friday, Nov. 13.

Women of the club served refreshments to 21 persons attending.

Elton Wagner Completes Overseas Duty

Airman First Class Elton H. Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Wagner, 584 Main St., Stroudsburg, has completed a tour of duty with the U. S. Air Force in the Philippines.

During his stay overseas, he was assigned to the 6207th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron, on Clark Air Force Base, located 60 miles north of Manila.

A. I. C. Wagner is now on his way to the United States for subsequent reassignment. Upon his arrival in California, he will report to the 2354th Personnel Processing Squadron at Parks Air Force Base.

From here, he will proceed to his new duty station at St. Albans, Vt., where he will be assigned to the 764th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron, Air Defense Command.

A graduate of Stroudsburg High School, A. I. C. Wagner joined the U. S. Air Force in February, 1951. Before going to the Philippines, he completed an installer-cableman's course at Warren AFB, Wyo.

Prior to his entering the service, he was employed as a tree surgeon for the F. A. Bartlett at Stamford, Conn.

WHY
SO MANY PEOPLE
GO BY SHIP!

The answer is simple. Most transatlantic travelers expect "more than just transportation"—they want to enjoy themselves on the way!

By ship to Europe is sheer enjoyment. As horizons glide by, you get all the pleasures of a fine hotel—all the delights of a gay resort. In short, your sea voyage is more than a means to an end. It's truly an extra vacation!

TIME TO UNWIND! Nothing quite like a trip by ship to savorate care and tension. You really rest. You arrive feeling fine!

All bear this sticker—
all are at your Mercury dealer's now!

Your best used car buy is a late-model Mercury with its famous performance and years-ahead styling. And your Mercury dealer displays the best of these with the Safe-Buy sticker on each windshield. This hard-to-win label means your Mercury dealer considers these used cars the best of his best. Most are one-owner cars—all have been thoroughly checked and re-conditioned—are guaranteed to be trouble-free. Drop around and see these beauties. But better hurry—they're priced to move fast.
